Course Outline

How Online Businesses Can Benefit You

More businesses are looking to the Internet as a marketplace for their services and goods. In this session, delegates get a look at the evolution of shopping and why an online business could be the right move for an entrepreneur.

Laying the Groundwork

If you have got an idea for an online business, you have come to the right place. This session provides your delegates with a look at the process of developing a business idea.

Creating a Business Plan

Regardless of what type of online business you are considering, it needs a business plan. Delegates will learn here about the key components of a good business plan and resources to use. It also provides a sample business plan to help illustrate the point.

Breaking Down the Plan

There are some elements in a business plan that require close attention and thought, especially in the marketing and finance sections. This session provides delegates with a close look at those sections and discusses how to make use of crowdfunding to raise money for your business.

Building Your Online Business

With your plan ready to go, the next step is putting together the basic elements of your online business. This session gives delegates lessons in the elements, such as brand presence and office space, while also delving into websites, e-commerce options, mobile strategies, social media, as well as online marketplaces.

Internet Marketing Basics

Marketing will help drive your online business to success, so do not overlook it. There are several options on social media to market your delegates' businesses and they are discussed in this session. Touched upon here is the use of blogs, plus some tips for Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Pinterest, and YouTube, and show you some businesses that are using these platforms successfully.
